The First Word

My blood is red... and gold!

It's a warm welcome back to fortress Hutt Park as the season starts to hot up. Today we welcome league favourites Wellington United. After being relegated from Central League last year it hasn't stopped Diamonds from 'getting back on the horse' and pushing for an immediate return to the top flight. There has been some talk around the football scene that the Central League should become a 12 team competition similar to what the Northern League is moving to across its top three divisions

For many seasons the top 3 or 4 teams in Capital Premier have been a class above the rest and Wellington United, Stop Out, Waterside and Island Bay would cope admirably in Central League. And you'd also get away from playing against reserve teams in the Capital Premier League! And maybe with two relegation spots it would keep the lower Central League clubs on their toes.

After a rusty start to the season we've hit a purple patch in our last two league matches with 17 goals. Micky with 4, Joey with 7 and Sam Zarka getting off the mark—the combinations are starting to gel and the goals are starting to flow. Not conceding is also crucial and the defensive unit is also doing a fine job in protecting Rarda in goal. Although at times he has pulled off some miraculous saves to keep us in matches.

Over the last two weekends the club has hosted the annual Wynton Rufer tournament. 80 teams of 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th graders battled it out for supremacy. A great event and after 20 years one of the best run tournaments in the country! Thanks again for the continued support from Revera and Mark Paston & Chris Greenacre being part of the entertainment on the day! Enjoy the football on show today and enjoy our Stop Out hospitality after the game!

Women's roundup

Last weekend the D1 Reds celebrated in style our second centurion. "Original" from April, 2008, Brooke Mildenhall playing her 100th game in a 3-3 draw with Seatoun.

Over the past 6 years Brooke has been part of our first team, winning a few league & cup medals along the way but lately with work commitments dictating, stepped into be the wise and experienced one for the Reds in Division 2. Once on the pitch Brooke is one of those all determination, no time for whiners type of player – tough in the tackle and fit with an engine that just won't quit.

After a rough first few rounds in 2014 the Reds have been markedly improved as Brooke got the message through to her fellow players about how the game needs to be played. It was also appropriate that game #100 included a goal from Brooke, (I believe that puts her ahead of her brother Kurt this winter?).

For those of you living in this century and able to find your way around the world wide webby thing, try our Facebook or perhaps YouTube "Stop Out vs Wellington United" (1 minute in BM scores her maiden goal in senior football back in '09).

In other news around the squad we should note the tidy performances of the Blacks in Women's 2, now up to third and remembering they are new to this grade in 2014.

Women's 1. Stop Out vs Brooklyn Hutt Park #1, 1pm Sun 25th May

Women's 2. Blacks v Island Bay Hutt Park # 2, 1pm Sun 25th May

What are the chances the dream team of ladies devoted to Angus secures yet another promotion before the season is done. Great to see all round great team player and one of those getting involved at the club with fundraising, Ali Cameron, score a brace in their 2-0 win over Naenae last weekend. D1 are quietly going about their business to sit comfortably mid table after “thrashing” Porirua and Wellington Utd -both by a 2-0 score line that flattered their opponents.

This weekend the Prem’s head to Wakefield for a top of the table clash with BNU. For anyone who saw last year’s two games with BNU then you know you’ll be able to witness a top class match with no quarter given. If you’re allowed out and have done all your chores get into town for the 1:00pm kick off to cheer on girls – here’s to Mel’, Saskia, Adele et al adding to their 2014 haul of goals!

WOMEN'S PREMIER Match report Craig Darby

Stop Out 6 vs Lower Hutt 0
Hutt Park, 18th April 2014
Scorers: MacDougall 2,
Sansom 2, Halfenberg 2

It's a great day at Hutt Park and again the Premis show they can pull a crowd. There were hundreds of spectators and although many claimed to be watching the WRT we know the Stop Out Women Premiers were the main attraction on the day!

With only twelve players available due to illness Lower Hutt was one of those teams we needed to show a dominant performance to.

The first half into the wind we played with composure with some great passages of passing play, controlling territory and possession and comfortably finishing the half ahead by 1-0 (Saskia 18min). The score not really a reflection of our dominant performance .

With the wind behind us the outcome was pretty much assured and we were able to create plenty more opportunities and with some good finishing we put in another five (Mel 60/87 Saskia 63 Adele 70/78)

The result gets us back to our winning ways with the big game this weekend as we take on BNU in a top of the table clash.

3 points Saskia, 2 points Chelsea, 1 point Jessie

CHATHAM CUP Match report Chris Sambrooke

PN Marist 2 vs Stop Out 1
Scorer: Fisum Aden

We travelled to Palmerston North for the first round of the Chatham Cup. It was a game that was pleasing in performance but unfortunately not the result. We started the game well and deservedly took the lead through Fisum Aden after Sam Zarka left his left back a little confused, something he did on a regular basis throughout the game. We let Marist back into the game midway through the first half with a penalty that was converted to make it 1-1. We dominated possession until the break but struggled to create any more clear cut chances.

The second half continued in the same way. We dominated the ball but were largely restricted to shots from distance. An organisational error cost us with about 20 minutes to go as we had enough numbers in the box to deal with a cross but left the striker free to head home. It is a cliché often used but other than the two goals I can't think of a save that Rarda had to make, but at the end of the day it was enough for them to progress.

Although a Cup run can be a positive thing, it can also be a distraction from the main objective of the season which is defending our Capital Premier League title.

Man of the Match: Sam Zarka

Lenny has been decidedly chipper over the last few weeks. The Blacks have steamrolled to the top of Masters 5 . A comprehensive thumping of Marist Classics last time out sees them atop of the league that matters most to them—the league McCreddies Clowns are in!

The Black's "Wall of Death" have conceded just seven goals all season.

With most goals scored, less goals conceded and the best goal difference, the stats back up why Lenny has a wee tear in his eye most Saturday nights reminiscing and comparing the current 2014 team with the great Black teams of the past. And the distinct possibility of a league victory this season!

But in their way may be their biggest adversaries—McCreddies Clowns. The match-up between these two Giants of Stop Out are legendary and a word of warning Black's - The Clowns lie in wait for their Cup Final, the only game that matters to them— Clowns v McCreddies. Where beer and bragging rights are the main prize!

MENS PREMIER LEAGUE Match reports. Chris Sambrooke

Stop Out 9 vs University 0
Saturday 3rd May, Hutt Park
Gaughan 4, Maluvik, Gulley 2,
Steele 2.

After a disappointing result against Petone we came back home to Hutt Park looking for a big performance to get our season back on track. We were able to welcome back captain JT from a suspension as well as Joe Gaughan from injury and Micky Malivuk for the first time this season. We knew that we needed a strong start and the lads delivered. Joe Gaughan opened the scoring with a smart finish 5 minutes into the game which lifted the confidence in the group. To be fair to University they then had us under a bit of pressure for the next 5 minutes or so until we were able to break and for Micky to score on his first game back. This really hurt University and from that point we took control of the game. Before half time we added goals from Steve Gulley and a further 2 to Joe Gaughan to complete his hat-trick on his first game back from long term injury. Half time score 5-0.

The 2013 University match

At half time I welcomed back the lads to the performance level expected at this club and the massive lift in the confidence level was obvious, we also spoke about how tight the league was and the potential that goal difference could have at the end of the season. We had to continue into the second half with the same intensity and quality. With just two minutes played Joe Gaughan scored his fourth of the game, a fantastic comeback that was rewarded with being replaced shortly after to limit his game time to aid his re-hab. This did not slow us down as more goals through Steve and a double to left back Regan gave us the final score of nine. Sam Zarka was outstanding throughout the game, we saw a huge work rate and although he didn't get on the score sheet, he provided four assists in a performance that showed everyone at the ground what a great player this club has picked up this season.

From here we need to keep turning out performances of this standard to climb the table.

Man of the Match: Sam Zarka

Stop Out 8 vs Seatoun 1.
Saturday 24th May Seatoun Park
Gaughan 3, Maluvuk 2, Steele , Zarka, Porter.

Infinity Foundation Limited

Back into league action, away at Seatoun Park. After a poor week weather wise we were slightly concerned about what the pitch would be like, but when we arrived we were very happy with the surface. We didn't really know what to expect from Seatoun, our main focus was on our performance and we were confident that if we played well we would be too strong.

Their objective from the start was pretty clear they started in a 4-6-0 formation. With no striker they sat every player behind the ball and looked to be defensively sound and frustrate us. With no outlet to hit up front they had to play the ball out from the back which meant that we were able to start our attacks predominantly in their half which kept them under constant pressure.

With the minimised threat at the back Joe Gaughan pushed in to play as a second striker which meant Regan could really push on from left back, this caused Seatoun problems time and again. After a couple of half chances we took the lead on 23 minutes through Regan with a good header from a fair way out. The goal really changed the game as Seatoun made an immediate change sacrificing a midfielder for a striker. This created a little bit more space through midfield and we took total control of the game. Sam Zarka doubled our advantage on 31 minutes and was quickly followed up by Joe to make it 3-0 after 33 minutes. Micky scored to put us 4-0 up and that was the way it stayed until the break.

The half time break was used to re-enforce the same message that took from the University game a couple of weeks prior, we really wanted to continue the pressure into the second half.

We started the second half brightly and forced a corner in the first minute after the re-start, we didn't have to wait long before Joe scored again in the 54th minute and following the trend from the first half the next goal was soon to follow as Micky scored with 57 minutes gone. At this point we made a couple of changes with Fisum and Simon Conway replacing Enrico and Micky. Simon's impact was immediate unselfishly laying on the hat-trick goal for Joe and a first Premier goal for Paora Porter who had come on to replace Sam Zarka after another superb display.

This win moves us up to third place in the league, 1 point behind our next opponents Wellington United, and 3 behind leaders Olympic.

Man of the Match: Regan Steele

2013 Capital Premier Champions !

REGAN reaches 50!

Regan Steele recently celebrated his 50th first team appearance. In between he has attended College in the USA but returned each Summer holiday to play for the Red and Gold's. Raff had collated some interesting stats on Reggie.

Year	Apprnces	Starts	Sub	Sub On	Sub Off	Goals	Assists	Yellow	Red
2009	17	15	2	2	2	4	2	2	1
2010	9	8	1	1		1		1
2011	9	7	2	2	1	7	2	1
2013	10	10					8	1
2014	5	5				3	1
	50	45	5	5	3	15	13	5	1

Scored on debut 04/04/2009 vs. Kapiti Coast United at Hutt Park Result: 4-1 win
 Sent off once – 11/04/2009 vs Upper Hutt at Harcourt Park Result 2-1 win
 Has played every outfield position at one time or another in his first 50 games

Breakdown of Stats	TOTAL	WIN	DRAW	LOSS
Capital Premier	43	28	4	11
Chatham Cup	5	3	0	2
Play offs	2	0	1	1
	50	31	0	14

So the stats don't lie .

When Regan plays in a league match we win 3 out of 4!

The Last Word!

Football's Temples

One of the best things in football, in my humble opinion is a match played under floodlights in a full stadium. The crowd seems louder, than in daylight, the colours seem more vivid. The atmosphere seems more, well, atmospheric. In New Zealand except at the very top level we do not have stadiums. We seem to go more for the open field, open to the elements, type of ground. That lack of enclosed 'rectangular playing facility' has always intrigued me. The fact that we offer little to no spectator provision at most local leagues, irrespective of code, is also a mystery to me.

Alongside a few friends I would describe my teenage interest in football as near the obsessive level. After school a few of us would kick around in the grounds of what is now the Open Polytechnic. Above the pitches that were there, sadly no longer, was a fire-break and sometimes we would sit up there after playing. From there you can see across Lower Hutt. The floodlights at the Hutt Rec would sometimes be on. Most just for the training sessions of the rugby sides based there. My friends and I would look over at the glow of the lights and the talk would be 'imagine if that was a real stadium?!

I have always wondered about New Zealand's lack of stadiums. In my teenage years to the degree that I once wrote to the then Lower Hutt City Council and asked if we could have a stadium at Te Whiti Park, at that time Stop Out's home ground. The answer is there for all to see. A no. Then when I asked 'grown-ups' they would talk about rates and affordability. One more patient adult talked to me about amateur ethos, minority sports, and the fact that clubs had very little money and sway with local councils. Even when I said I only want, I had it planned, a two thousand capacity thing with mostly standing room and some limited seating I simply got a smile and nothing else. The naivete of youth writ large.

From this you might then gather that I was a bit surprised when, as I got older and started travelling to find in other parts of the world the idea of a local stadium taken for granted. Clearly in some places the local stadium is a massive temple to football. Barcelona's Nou Camp and the old San Mamés of Athletic Bilbao's come to mind. What then of the Stade Didier Deschamps in a small village in the Pyrénées? Small and built with local funding and labour. Or the small stadium at Malika, a small village, outside Dakar in Senegal. This was built entirely by a voluntary effort, it was more of an enclosed ground than a stadium but it 'rocked'.

This is something of a romantic point of view. Imagine how welcome it would be if someone came up with some cash and allied themselves with a local council and wanted to build a stadium in, say Petone...? What? WHAT?

Life-long Stop Out fan Mike Barton gives us his personal view on the beautiful game!
