The First Word

My blood is red... and gold!

It's a warm Hutt Park welcome to Western Suburbs. The last time our first teams met here was in the Chatham Cup fixture on the 12th May 2012 and on that day we were victorious with a 3-1 victory. Still at the club from that day and in the first team mix are Jason Tipping, Brandon Tai, Matt Clarke, Damon Fussell and Alistair Yates. Plus the goal scorers that day Steven Gulley and Martin Packer who should be out on the park today which reinforces our club ethos of player loyalty. Nice to see but sadly not common around local footballing circles.

Whilst some things remain constant quite a lot has changed since that day. The obvious one is that we're now back in Central League and sitting comfortably in 5th place. Many feel this team has a lot more improvement in it which will ultimately deliver more consistent performances and results.

Wests too with their Ole influence are a vastly different side and club than a few years back. Sitting second in the league a good result today to keep in touch with Napier is crucial for their title aspirations.

The Stop Out club is building quite nicely in 2015 with the 2nds—traditional slow starters meeting one of the title favourites Stokes Valley in the early game on #2. This is a very young side with a sprinkling of experience but developing into a very competitive unit. And great to see Stokes Valley getting more successful in the top leagues!

Marty Dutton's 3rds remain unbeaten and lead Capital 6. They too are at Hutt Park in another early game against North Wellington on #3. A frightening 32 for and 1 against goal tally shows just how well this side is playing.

In the main game on #3 Lenny's Masters Blacks are looking to consolidate top spot in Masters 5. And the late game on #2 sees the Reds side in their first year back in Masters 1 taking on North Wellington aiming to consolidate their 3rd place position. And a wee warning. Hurry into the clubrooms after the games to quickly reserve a seat as those Masters boys get very thirsty after their matches and it could be standing room only!

Enjoy the football on offer and enjoy our Stop Out hospitality!

Wynton Rufer 2015

The forecast look okay and tomorrow is the start of another Wynton Rufer tournament. Tomorrow sees the 7th and 8th graders and next weekend it's the turn of the 9th and 10th graders. Over 80 teams from around the Wellington region will descend on Hutt Park for our annual junior tournament now in its 22nd year. Get along and watch some great football — and yes the results will count!

Welcome home Hags

It's a very warm welcome home to Stop Out junior Michael Hagarty.

Mike is currently studying and playing at Charleston University in West Virginia. Last season they were in the Division 2 National Championship.

Charleston are in the top 2 schools in the whole of the USA.

Mike will return to the States and all going well graduates next May but in the meantime he's back wearing the red and gold of Stop Out. Nice to see!

Women's Update

Last week saw a little bit of history created, our Women's CL team earned their first ever point at this level of competition. After an introductory month of tough love against highly fancied (and experienced sides) the team is into a run of games against the teams around them on the league table. Last weekend was a 2-2 draw versus the auld enemy of BNU, while this weekend they are on the road to Moturoa of New Plymouth chasing a first win. Their next home game is June 7th when they host (currently bottom placed) Valeron of Palmerston North.

Two goals from youngster Ella Vincent-Hyde looked to have won last week's encounter with BNU at Wakefield. The second goal was worth the price of admission with a delightful chip from outside the box on the right into the top left corner leaving the GK flapping like a seal.

Sadly, a ref's call we'll never agree with changed the final outcome to 2-2 as BNU scored in the 90th minute. That aside, from my place on the side-line it was great to at long last see long standing club players Mel' Macdougall, Kathryn Burt, Alysa Darby, April Gallagher, Amalia Lipdis, Jessie Fussell, Aimee Sanson and Natasha Ingram in our bold red club shirt playing at the region's highest level.

Also it's been great to watch two of our junior teams of all girls playing on a Saturday morning. Mike Houlihan and his 12th grade team have started the winter well, some great results and importantly enjoying their football education and progress. The team travel under the moniker of Stop Out Bremner, a tip of the hat to our first ever Women's football centurion (100 games for the club not 100 years old that is), Steph Bremner.

In the 13th grade regional Travel League are the Stop Out Ninja's. New to the club, they're a group of very keen girls who wanted to play together in a winter league that we were pleased to be able to assist. Many of the girls are involved with the regional FTC programmes and it shows in their play, a possession based game challenging the individual players' skill level to match the intensity of their game plan. I thoroughly enjoy the opportunity to see them both play and recommend you spend an hour or so on a Saturday morning sometime soon.

This weekend we celebrate Narumon Hall, Mel' Hodgson and Natasha Ingram playing their 50th games for the club and we're within a weekend or two of two more centurions joining the One Ton club – more on them in the next issue.

Who in this pic has played 50
Women's matches?

Back to the senior teams and the Premier League team under Phil's guidance have a crucial game tomorrow. They are at Karori, keen for a result to keep them on track to hold their place in this league. A 1pm kick off at Karori and again in this season of intrigue it is great to see a group of players getting a crack at this level of football that might not normally been afforded them.

The Reds (D1) and Blacks (D2) have been doing it tough at the start of the season, and both might well find themselves re-graded in a couple of weeks but we're of the view that's not the end of the world. The players need to be at a level commensurate with their collective skill level and in a league that encourages them and is enjoyable. I'm sure this will be the case for the second semester of the season for both teams.

2nd team update

Welcome to Hutt Park for the curtain raiser to the 1st team match today which sees your home team Stop Out reserves vs Stokes Valley's first team in a top of the table clash for bragging rights in Cap 2. If you haven't been able to catch a Cap 2 game yet, or have yet to see the reserves play this season, you couldn't have picked a better match. You are in for a treat this game day!

Last weekend's round 7 match saw the reserves travel away to the unforgiving Richard Prouse Park to face another top of the table opponent in Wainuiomata. We knew this was going to be a battle from start to finish, and after the weather that our region endured last week, we were expecting the worst from a pitch standpoint. We were pleasantly surprised to turn up and find a decent playing surface which would help our chances in the game.

We are starting to find a consistency in the personnel of this reserve group, which is beginning to translate into how we look when we play, and ultimately turning into positive results and points on the table. We continue to field a starting back line with an average age of 18 years, and the boys played above and beyond their youth, showing composure on the ball, confidence in building out from our back and connecting the game moving forward. We limited the counter attack of Wainui to very few chances, and when called upon our GK Logan Van Der Vegt was outstanding, putting in a man-of-the-match performance with a few highlight reel and game changing saves.

Admittedly from the Wainui coaching staff in the post-game, we had the better of the game and the better of the chances around goal, and were unlucky not to have taken a few of our clear chances to be up 2 or 3 goals in the latter stages of the game. But the game of football goes that way sometimes, and as fate had it on the day, we gave up a penalty kick in the 80th minute to go down 1-0. However, the character, heart and determination that this group is starting to show duly rewarded us in the final minutes of the game. We went to 3 defenders at the back, pushing the towering Hayden "Stavros" Taylor forward (which we had done earlier in the season just to see what the look would give us). Around the 85th minute, Alastair Hicks received a ball wide on the right side and floated it into the box which Stav was able to get his noggin' on the end of at the back post for a header to level us at 1-1.

We reorganised our shape and felt the momentum shift drastically in our favour, and felt with one more chance on goal we could walk away with the 3 points.

We reorganised our shape and felt the momentum shift drastically in our favour, and felt with one more chance on goal we could walk away with the 3 points. The final few minutes were frantic. As expected, Wainui broke on the counter and threw numbers forward at us, which ultimately led to their demise. A turnover on their part led to distribution from our back to find playmaker O Thani in the middle of the field. He turned forward and found a streaking Raydon Semmens who calmly slotted the ball home for the game winner in the 90th minute. Pandemonium ensued amongst the boys, both on the field and on the bench!

The pulse of the group is very strong at the moment, and you feel momentum building amongst the boys as they continue to battle, fight and scrap for each other from the first until the last minute of trainings and games. We believe this sentiment helped us earn the hard fought 3 points last weekend, and will continue to boost us as we approach a solid Stokes Valley team this weekend, and as we enter in the 2nd half of our season. Our goal is to finish at the top of the Cap 2 table at season’s end, and week by week we continue to show the rest of the league that we will be hard pressed to be pushed out of that top spot.

We want to wish our 1st team the best of luck this weekend against Western Suburbs. We will be there to support you in your efforts as you continue to push for points on the Central League table. To the fans, thank you again for your support, enjoy the matches and we look forward to seeing you in the clubrooms after the games!

Central League Rnd 6 vs P Nth Marist. Hutt Park

This game against Palmy Marist was one that we felt was another good opportunity to continue to make the statement that Stop Out is not coming into the Central League just to survive. Adding to the game's atmosphere was also the close losses to Marist that were still fresh in the minds of most people here at the club.

The game opened at a quick pace and we were eager to get ahead of a team that had conceded some early goals in recent weeks. Starting quickly we managed to carve out plenty of chances in the opening 20 minutes of the game and it seemed from the sideline a goal was coming for us. Unfortunately our opening pressure only left us frustrated and without a goal after several opportunities weren't taken. 35 minutes in we finally converted a chance through a brilliant chest and left foot Micky Malivuk volley to lead 1-0. The lead looked to have given us some confidence and we were continuing to push and create more chances before halftime. However it was Palmy who would convert a chance leading into half time after some good work from their danger man Josh Smith. Not long after and just before the halftime whistle Palmy scored again. Josh Smith finishing through a tight gap of Stop Out players on the goaline after a tackle on our keeper left him on the ground and needing treatment. Palmy Marist Leading 2-0 at HT.

Leaving the changing rooms our boys were confident if the next goal was theirs they would go on to take the points from this game. Unfortunately less than a minute after the second half had got underway, we had conceded again after some sloppy defending on the byline allowed Marist to cut the ball back to a well-timed run and finish, 3-1 Palmy Marist. The boys were noticeably dejected by the quick goal after halftime and it was going to be tough to come back from that. Now two goals up, Palmy were content to sit a little deeper and play out the game. This encouraged us to pile on pressure late into the game. That pressure eventually led to a second goal for us as Steve Gulley bent one in from the edge of the area, 3-2. A final push couldn't breakdown some determined Palmy defending and the game ended in a disappointing 3-2 loss for us at home.

MOM: Andrew Abba. Loss 2-3. Goals: Malivuk, Gulley.

Central League Rnd 7 vs Petone. Memorial Park Turf

This was a much anticipated game for us being a local derby and yet another opportunity to stamp our mark on the Central League. The game opened with a quick pace about it and we certainly seemed up for the challenge. Both sides fashioned early chances but it was us who would convert a chance first. Martin Packer clipped a delicate ball into the box and it was bought down by Grinnner who swiveled and finished past the outstretched Dan Clarke back in goal for Petone, 1-0 Stop Out. We continued to equip ourselves well in the first half and our back four were continuing to break up Petone's attacks. There was a game of its own starting to take place in the midfield and it was being well won by our diamond midfield of Enrico, Packer, Steve and Pickers. 10 minutes out from halftime we broke up another Petone attack and released the ball to Steve Guley. Steve continued towards the Petone goal with a couple of touches before placing a right footed strike into the bottom corner of the Petone net for a well-deserved 2-0 HT lead.

The second again started quickly and Jordan Martens was played in behind expertly by Packer. Jordan squared a fantastic ball back across the box to an arriving Malivuk who's shot cannoned off the crossbar. The second half wore on and both teams were looking tired. Petone introduced some pace to their attack and tried get in behind us more. We also made a change of our own by introducing Michael Hagarty into the game, welcome back Mike! Both teams worked hard and apart from a bizarre late goal to Petone's Richie Mclay, all attacks were broken up well. And so a well-deserved 2-1 victory on the back of a great team performance with many strong performances making the man of the match selection very difficult. MOM did go to Jordan Martens who had a fantastic game at left back for the mighty Stop Out. Well done lads.

MOM: Jordan Martens. Win 2-1.
Goals: Grindlay, Guley,

The Last Word!

The ramblings of a dad.

My daughter is two years and eight months of age. The expectation amongst family and friends is that she will grow up being inculcated in the football cult. That she will grow up bearing the pain, joy and frustration of supporting Stop Out and, as much of the family do, Everton. So bearing in mind much of a thirty year old argument with my good friend Mark. (Tall guy who used to run a record, yes vinyl, shop on Lambton Quay, 'You must remember him'.) Mark reckons that football is a con and a distraction, of energy, from that which should be employed in global revolution. To borrow from him, 'ball sports are bread and circuses a modern opium of the masses'. His thought was that my daughter, Phoebe, would be wearing replica kits from birth. Well now, he is wrong. It is true that very early on Phoebe was given a replica Everton kit but she has not worn it, not even once. Further, she will not wear it unless she wants to wear it. So far she has not picked it up and tried it on. Her aunt is a bit angry and keeps saying that very soon she will be too big for it. I have tried and tried to make the point that it will be Phoebe's choice.

My cunning plan should be obvious by now. However the forces of socialisation and, as that smart French guy Bourdieu would say, habitus and cultural reproduction are at work even as you read this. The other day Phoebe was kicking a ball around and made a great contact. The ball smacked in to the front door with a big thud. Phoebe smiled stuck both hands in the air and shouted 'Goal!'. A few days later she was in our back room, on her own, and I heard her singing, or is it chanting, the Wellington Phoenix effort of 'Yellow Army, Yellow Army'. There is also the Saturday afternoon read of the Stop Out programme which Phoebe goes through looking for pictures of women playing football. It is clearer and clear that you cannot escape the environment that you grow up in.

There is another side to this that does have me intrigued and it is Phoebe's recognition of the real and the replica shirt. To be clear she wouldn't know her Algeria shirt from her Crystal Palace shirt (both in dad's wardrobe) but she can now tell a football shirt from another sporting shirt. How does that work? Phoebe gets that boys and girls, at the weekend market, in football gear have just been playing. Now, if we see an adult in a shirt Phoebe knows it doesn't mean that they have been playing.

In short, like all children Phoebe knows stuff. The question is how does she know the stuff that knows? It may well be that there is much more football clamour around than I had realised. What will Mark say?

Life-long Stop Out fan Mike Barton gives us his perspective on the beautiful game!
