FIRST WORD

MY BLOOD IS RED... AND GOLD!

It's been an unusual start to the season.

In the juniors, Easter and school holidays has already interrupted the season which has only just kicked off. The Eastbourne early season and Kapiti junior tournaments were postponed.

Weather bombs have impacted with training ground closures and match postponements already this year.

It's also been unique with our Women's first team playing Saturday matches for the first time - which is a real positive for building a closer bond across the club.

And then there's the bizarre. After a positive start to the season and two wins over Easter our first team traveled to Miramar.

In one of the most dominant first half performances many of us have seen for years we found ourselves 3 -0 down at half time.

6 times we hit the post that day and to be honest we could have played until it got dark and the ball was never going to go into the "old onion bag".

It just shows you what sport throws at you occasionally.

And with JT's 100th it wasn't the greatest way to celebrate one of the club's finest!

If there was ever any motivation to turn that result around it's today.

Napier have had a rough start to the season, but such a professional club will not give in to any one and have the all-round class to beat anyone on their day.

All leans towards a classic encounter today.

Enjoy the football and the Stop Out hospitality.

Stop Out v Lower Hutt City - Hutt Park

The first game of our Easter double header took us to Fraser Park for the first derby of the season. Lower Hutt had started the season strongly under new coach Steve Coleman so we knew we would be in for a tough battle.

We started poorly, very slow and not really in the battle for the first 15 minutes and as a result we fell behind to a counter attack that gave Lower Hutt a deserved advantage. The goal gave us the wake up that we needed and we proceeded to dominate possession from this point on as it appeared that Lower Hutt we quite content on sitting back to absorb the pressure. Andrew Abba drew us level just before the break with his first goal of the season.

We began the second half well, we looked comfortable on the ball and the only time we looked like we might be under threat was on the counter attack. Midway through the second half Abba got his second goal by following up on the keeper and forcing a mistake. The lead was short lived as we conceded within five minutes from one of the few attacks on our goal. With ten minutes to go we restored the lead when Micky Malivuk converted from a freekick.

We battled through the last 10 minutes to close out the game and take a well fought but well deserved derby victory and three points.

Final Score: Stop Out 3 v Lower Hutt City 2

Scorers: Abba 2 Malivuk

Man of the Match: Andrew Abba

WOMEN'S REPORT

May I first start by saying it is a sad day for football when your opposition sulks because they only beat you 3 -1 and their coach finds it just too hard to say your team played a good game hence the score line.

Obviously we had a plan and we aimed to keep to it no matter what happened. Our ladies did that despite giving up a soft early goal and another in the 18th min. But we struck back scoring from a great free kick taken by Heather in the 40th minute. We played the last ten mins of the half with 10 players as we had a player off injured and we held our own and did not concede anymore goals in that half.

Coming into the second half we knew they were going to throw everything at us and they did but they only managed to score once in that half. But it wasn't all one way traffic as our girls created scoring opportunities as well and I have to say every player stepped up and tried to play to their very best. Huge praise must go to our defenders Aimee, Anna, Sophie and Jess who had outstanding games as well as our keeper Bex. With 10 mins remaining Lucy Dobbins made her W League debut and made the most of her time on the field even having a shot on goal. Well done Lucy!

At the end of the game our team were very happy with what they had achieved. A lesson to many that you can be glorious in defeat and you realise the value is in the battle not the score.

Dennis Tapp
W League coach

The Marist women's team had a surprisingly tough 3-1 win over Stop Out in a Wellington W League game at Memorial Park on Saturday.

After Stop Out had been walloped in their two previous games, many were expecting them to be cannon fodder for league-chasing Marist, but coach Simon Lees ended up being disappointed.

"We just seemed to be off our game in the final third for some reason," Lees said. "Whether we were complacent or not respecting Stop Out I don't quite know."

Lees did say Stop Out loaded up their defence and didn't attack a lot, but it was his side's issue to try and break them down.

"We had 70 per cent possession and weren't under much pressure defensively during the game, but when we attacked too many of our passes meant to go behind their defenders ended up going straight to them."

Torijan Lyne-Lewis scored after just two minutes and Nicole Robertson doubled the score after 18 minutes.

Stop Out pulled one back on halftime before substitute Mikaela Boxall completed the scoring.

Stop Out v Palmerston North Marist - Hutt Park

Following up our derby win we hosted Shane Rufer and his Palmerston North Marist side to Hutt Park on Easter Monday. We are always up for a good battle when Marist come to town and we approached the game with the same expectation.

This was a game that we felt in control of from the first minute. We had the majority of possession throughout and Marist were keen on sitting deep meaning the pressure was on us to be creative enough to break them down and take our chances. We did that on the twenty minute mark when Martin Packer knocker a great ball to Abba who's first touch took him across his defender and finished strongly past the keeper. The play was effectively repeated 10 minutes later when Packer found Abba again to give us a 2-0 lead. The only real chance that was created against us was in between our goals when the Marist winger hit the crossbar with a great strike from the corner of the box.

We took our two nil lead into the break, keen to really push on into the second half to ensure we took maximum points from the long weekend. The second half was completely dominated by us. We moved the ball well and were a constant threat on the Marist goal, we added five unanswered goals, Micky scored a second half hattrick and Grindlay bagged a double to complete the 7-0 rout. Man of the match for Martin Packer who could not be contained and contributed three assists.

All in all it was a great long weekend for us.

Final Score: Stop Out 7 v Palmerston North Marist 0

Scorers: Malivuk 3 Grindlay 2 Abba 2

Man of the Match: Martin Packer

Stop Out Men's Third Team with a 3-1 win against Wainui Reserves - Fraser Park

Goals to Neso Malivuk, Matt 'Chopper' Henderson and Jack Antonopoulos on his senior debut. Sam Wright and Nick Marra also making their senior debuts for the club, superbly led by Chopper, Josh Tendeter, Nash and Adam Reynard.

Sam Mitchell once again showing his quality with a man of the match performance. A young side today but some immense character shown.

3 wins in a row and top of the league!

Stop Out v Miramar Rangers - David Farrington Park

After a strong Easter weekend we travelled to David Farrington Park to take on Miramar Rangers. We knew it would be a difficult game, but what we experienced out there I am still struggling to make sense of.

We started brilliantly, the best that we have played all season. We created chance after chance and within the first ten minutes should have been at least two nil up, and potentially could have been up by four. On the back of all the pressure a defensive error leaves Dom Rowe with an open goal and he slots it to make it 1-0. We go on the front foot again to pull the game back and another error leaves it 2-0. We continue to create chances knowing that a single goal would get us into the break with a chance of getting back into the game but another mistake means that we go into the break 3-0 down.

After the break we make a few changes to chase the game but concede and make it too tough to stage a comeback.

In the course of the game we created multiple chances and hit the post no less than six times, but the lesson we have to take is that you have to take the chances when they arise, and you cannot allow yourselves to make simply mistakes when chasing a game.

A four nil loss should be an indicator that you are outplayed, but we showed more than enough in the game to take some positives out of it.

Final Score: Stop Out 0 v Miramar Rangers 4

Man of the Match: Steven Guley

A VIEW FROM THE NORTHERN LEAGUE

YOUTH FOCUS MOOTED FOR TOP TIER FOOTBALL COMPETITION

A premiership coach thinks one of the country's leading club football competitions could be doing more to develop young players.

In his first season as East Coast Bays premier team coach, David Mulligan sees an opportunity to get more teenagers playing in the Northern Region Football League.

Mulligan's motion for change may take time, but he is trying to make headway at his new club.

"We really want to try and encourage the younger players to put their hands up and really push to be in the first team," Mulligan said.

David Mulligan began his senior playing career at Central United before heading overseas.

Mulligan, a former All White, thinks the NRFL should be where younger school-age players get a chance to test themselves.

"Some coaches think 16 to 18 year olds are too young to play in the league and that those players should wait another two years until they can play in first teams," Mulligan said.

"If a player is 16 to 18 years old he should be in the first team reserves and knocking on the door to be a part of the first team; and this is the coaching style that I promote."

Actively participating with adult players who are more skilled, is the kind of challenge that some under-19 players need, Mulligan said.

"This will be the only way to improve a young player's skill level."

Mulligan began his own senior football career at Central United, as a teenager, alongside some iconic names in New Zealand football. At the time he was playing and training with the likes of Mark Elrick, Fred De Jong, Noah Hickey and Ivan Vicelich.

"I went on to play for the first team at 15 years old and this was an opportunity to improve my own skill level, as a result of this I was then afforded the opportunity to move to the UK to start my professional career in football."

Mulligan believes the current set-up of the NRFL could be changed to help nurture the up and coming talent.

"I think it might be an idea to introduce a rule to the league that encourages coaches to have a first team Saturday squad made up of younger and older players. For example in a squad of 16 players a coach would have to have six players under the age of 20."

Mulligan has been around the league for a number of seasons, having most recently been a player/coach at Forrest Hill Milford.

START OF THE SEASON

THE ABSURDITY OF GOALKEEPING

Albert Camus was both a goal keeper and a philosopher. Certainly more famous for the latter. It was he, Camus, who once said that “After many years in which the world has afforded me many experiences, what I know most surely in the long run about morality and obligations, I owe to football.” Camus played as a goalkeeper.

This is, arguably, a position defined both by solitude and solidarity. It is the position where some of the most eccentric, outlandish characters of the sport have also flourished throughout history. The position for outsiders. As Jim White in London’s Daily Telegraph wrote “it, being in goal, is a lonely calling, an individual isolated within a team ethic, one who plays to different constraints. If his team scores, the keeper knows it is nothing to do with him. If the opposition score, however, it is all his fault”.

Whilst standing as a ‘sentinel in goal’ a goalkeeper has plenty of time to reflect on the absurdist nature of his position. In philosophy, “the Absurd” refers to the conflict between the human tendency to seek inherent value and meaning in life and the human inability to find any. In football the goalkeeper has the inherently absurdist role. This is a sport where the use of the foot is all and, yet, the goalkeeper alone relinquishes the use of the foot for the use of the hand. This is a sport where movement is all and yet one player, the goal keeper, sets aside movement for the loneliness of guarding the net. A static observer of all that is in front of them. That relative stasis that does not last.

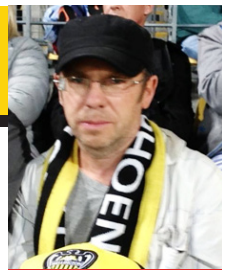

To borrow from Søren Kierkegaard, the Danish philosopher. Each individual, not society or religion, is solely responsible for giving meaning to life and living it passionately and sincerely, or “authentically”. The goalkeeper’s burst of action, of participation, given meaning to the role and its authenticity. Without behaving authentically the role is absurd. The notion of the Absurd containing the idea that there is no meaning in the world beyond what meaning we give it. The goalkeeper, alone and from within, gives meaning to the role.

What of the broader game? French Football Weekly contend that Camus’s reasoning “was most likely to be that in football, by essence, rules are clearly set out and easily understandable”. It is this simplicity that leads some to view football as a low-ranking sport for the masses. However it is also what makes it one of the most popular on our planet. They also further contend that “far from politicians trying to confuse us with their convoluted moral systems”, where words are kept one day and forgotten the next, “football is disarmingly disciplined”. The field is one and the same for everyone, the ball is one and the same, and what differentiates players is hard work and raw talent”.

If everything was as simple in our absurd society. If only we saw the world through goalkeepers’ eyes.
